The Plumbing Doctor

Serving our Dixon area is a doctor who specializes in something other than your health—he specializes in the health of your plumbing system. Meet the Plumbing Doctor: Mike Farris.

Mike has been working in the Dixon area now since 1976. He not only is an experienced full time plumbing maintenance representative, he does drain cleaning, electronic leak inspection, and troubleshooting.

You might have seen him about town as his company vehicle doesn't seem to lack attention. He drives an ambulance. (Appropriately so for the company name.)

Mike said that he is not your stereo-typical plumber. He requires all his help to be clean cut professionals who leave a good business image. His two sons, Taylor, 20, and Justin, 22, are his hired help.

The Plumbing Doctor is strictly family owned, and that adds to the image they send out, he said.

Punctuality is a promise when working with Mike, if he gives you a time he'll be there, you better have the door open, 'cause that will be the time he shows up. "No later than, no earlier than," he said proudly.

Although Mike works out of his home in Winters, he plans on moving into a shop here in Dixon in the near future. But for now, if you happen to see a large white truck that just happens to look like an ambulance, look twice, you just might see Mike or his sons inside on the way to a stopped up sink, backed up toilet or dismantled drainpipe.
